

Websites/Interactive Tools

Appalachian Studies Association Website

Source: Appalachian Studies Association

Description: This site provides resources including Appalachian Studies Bibliographies, Appalachian Studies syllabi, K-12 resources, and more.

Appalachia in Film and Television

Author(s): Larry Smith of Bottom Dog Press

Description: This site provides a list of over 40 Appalachian-themed films and TV shows arranged by year, ranging from 1904 to 2009.

Applit

Description: This site provides pages on articles dealing with Appalachia, literature lists, bibliographies, lesson plans, and study guides.

Source: Created by Judy A. Teaford and Tina Hanlon, Ferrum College; Maintained by Tina Hanlon

Carol Hurst's Children's Literature Site

Author(s): Carol Otis Hurst and Rebecca Hurst

Description: Describes Appalachian picture books, novels, and folktales.

Chief Appalachian Poets

Author: Larry Smith of Bottom Dog Press

Description: This page contains a partial list of major Appalachian poets.

Cynthia Rylant

Source: West Virginia Wesleyan College

Description: This page contains a brief biography on Appalachian children's author Cynthia Rylant.

Doug Elliott Website

Source: Doug Elliott

Description: Elliott is a humorist, author, storyteller, herbalist, naturalist, and basket-maker . His site includes videos, a link to his blog, and stories.

Kentucky's Underground Railroad—Passage to Freedom

Source: Kentucky Educational Television (KET)

Description: This page contains information to accompany the film documentary "Kentucky's Underground Railroad—Passage to Freedom," additional footage of oral history, and timelines.

Mappalachia

Source: Berea College in Berea, KY

Description: This site contains a collection of over 7,000 maps drawn by Berea college students in a general studies course developed after World War II.

MountainLit

Description: Website with a West Virginia Emphasis that is helpful for teachers and librarians. Provides reviews, essays, and a section of authors of children's literature.

The Mountaintop Removal Road Show

Source: Dave Cooper

Description: This site provides images of mountaintop removal, as well as a 35-minute, free online road show presentation.

Webquests

Description: There are several sites that allow users to create their own webquests (zunal.com, questgarden.com, etc.) and which may be particularly useful for teachers. Some teachers may want to create Appalachian-related webquests. An example is Nick Friedman's History of Appalachian Music.